AND THE Circus of Dreams

Draw your own Circus of Dreams

"An entire city of little tents bobbed before them, each pitched upon a candyfloss cloud. The tents were every colour you could imagine - and some you could not. They were held in place by hot-air balloons and linked together by sugary bridges that were as thin and wiry as cobwebs."

The Circus of Dreams is a place full of magic and wonder. Using the space below draw your own Circus of Dreams. What would you find there? Who would you take with you?
