

Codebreaker

Sergeant Buzabiz is on the trail of some thieves who are using a secret code to send messages to each other. He has solved some of the code but still has a few letters missing.

Can you work out what this message says? What are the symbols for the missing letters?

The code:

A = 	E = 	I = 	M = 	Q = 	U = 	X =
B = 	F = 	J = 	N = 	R = 	V = 	Y =
C = 	G = ?	K = 	O = ?	S = 	W = 	Z =
D = ?	H = 	L = 	P = 	T =

The thieves' message:

Decode the message here:

Draw the symbols for the missing letters:      D =                  G =                  O =

Beastie Bros Masks

Get an adult to help make these easy masks.

You need: stiff paper or card, scissors, a marker pen, glue or sticky tape.

Dribble

Draw eye dots with a black marker pen.

Use coloured paper or poster paint.

Eyes cut out from white paper/card. Use a mug or baked bean tin as a template for the circles.

Strips of card or paper, folded until strong enough to stand upright.

Strip of paper or card big enough to fit snugly as a headband.

Dash

Strip of yellow paper or card big enough to fit snugly as a headband.

Strips of orange paper curled and stuck inside headband.

Eyes cut out from white paper/card. Use a mug or baked bean tin as a template for the circles.

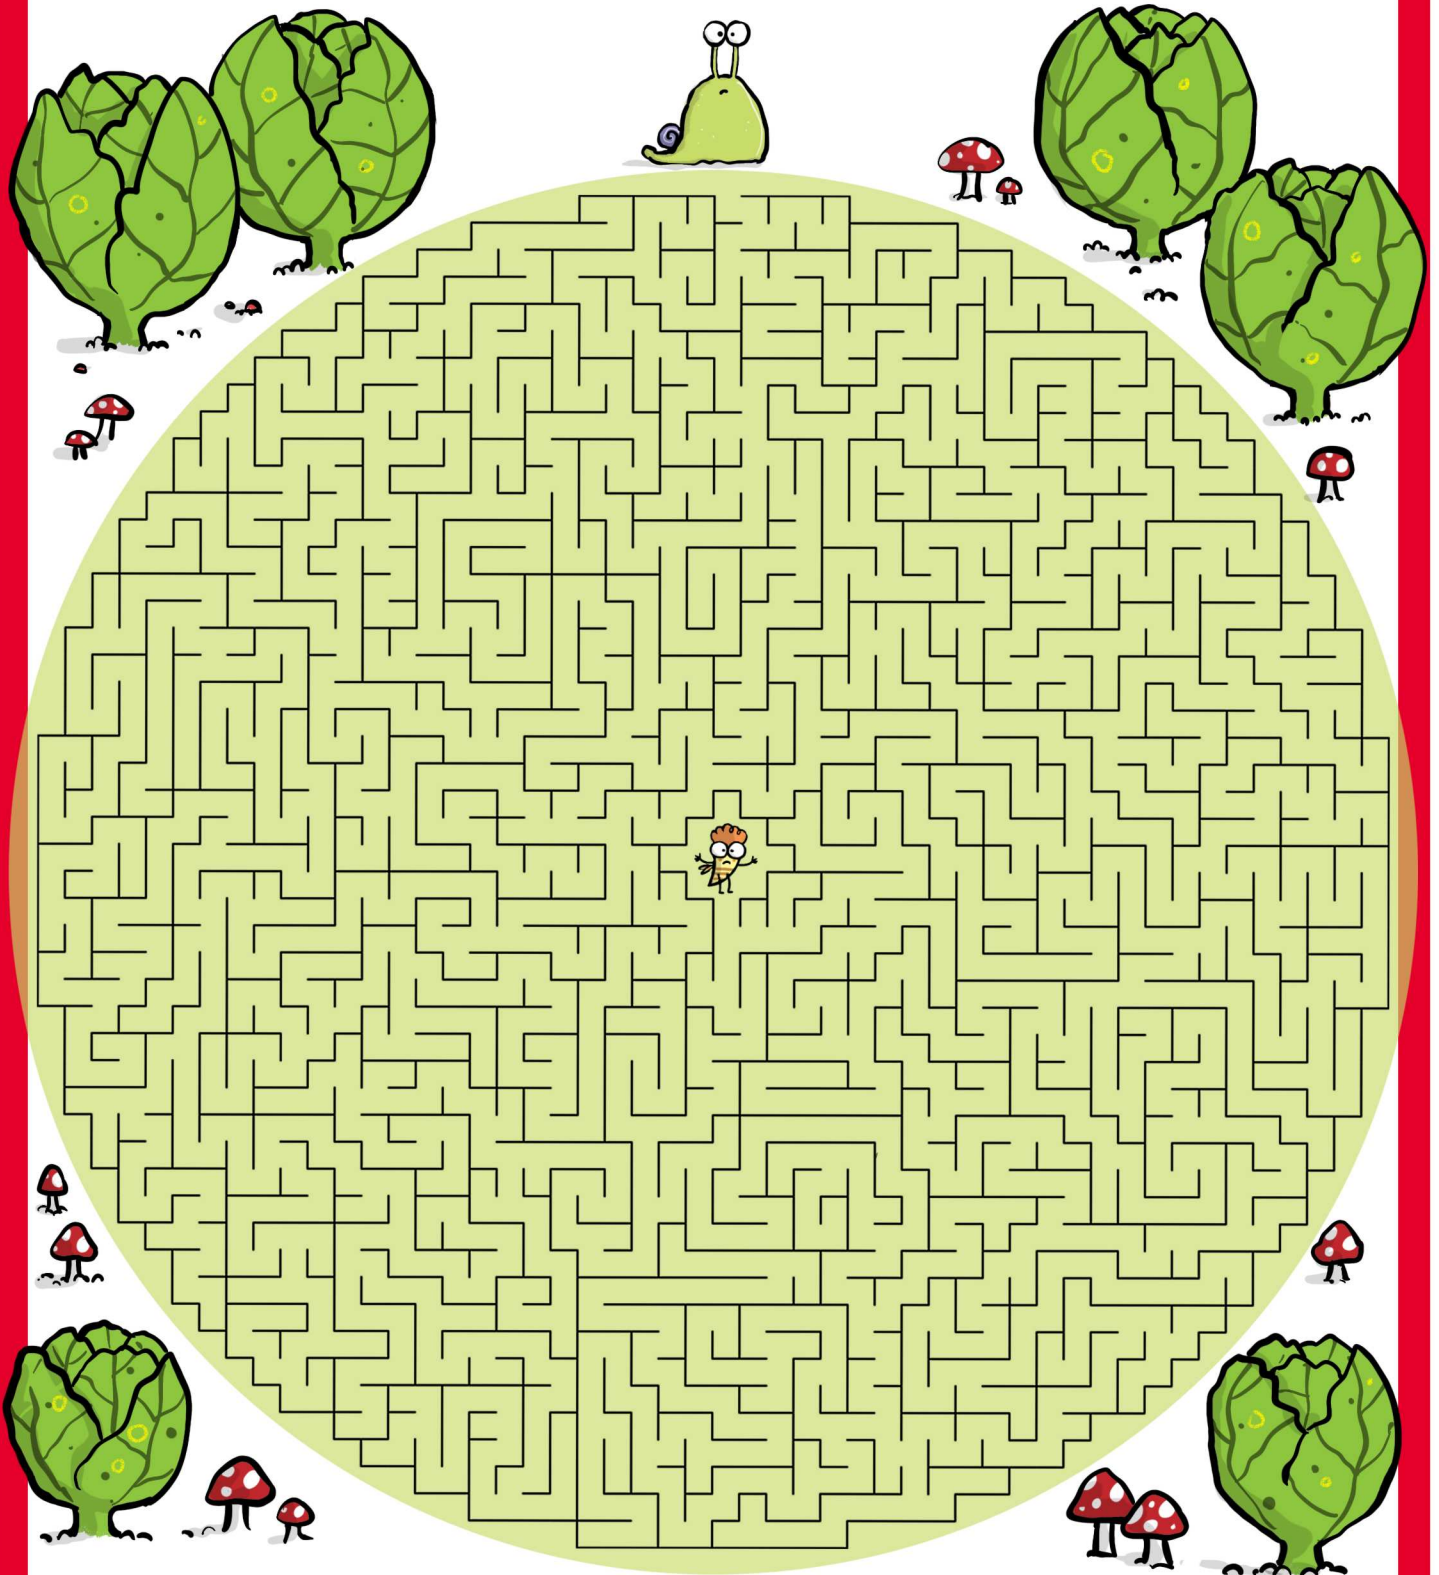

Eyeholes cut out and outlined with black marker pen.

Cabbage Forest Maze

Dash is lost in the middle of the dark and dangerous cabbage forest and can't find his way out! Help Dribble come to the rescue of his brother by finding a path through the forest.

Story-starters

Here are some ideas for writing your own stories set in Bugtown.

- Write a story about Dribble and Dash exploring the cabbage forest. Who do they meet? And what do they find? Perhaps they meet a friendly bug who is lost. Or maybe a monster. Perhaps they find a treasure map, or discover an old, empty tree house with secret rooms. What happens? Make the story spooky with creepy noises and strange shadows.
- (1)

- Write a story about Tilda the earthworm. She's throwing a surprise birthday party for Gus the fly. Think about all of things she must sort out: balloons, cake, music, party games, and invitations. For each thing think about what could go wrong. Perhaps the cake is burned, or the invitations have gone missing! How could she fix it? What would she need help with? Remember she has to do everything without Gus finding out! Make the story funny with lots of accidents and messy disasters!
- (2)

- Write a story about the Dung Heap Gang trying to steal the Queen Bee's valuable honey crystal from the royal beehive. How do Netty and Lou get inside the beehive without being spotted? Perhaps they have disguises. The crystal will be guarded. How do they distract the guards? Are they discovered? Do they get caught? Make the story exciting with a chase!
