

The mother bear is hungry. She has not had food for months. All winter, she stayed in her den with her new-born cubs.

Now she is ready to hunt. She is looking for food. Her cubs follow her.

Sometimes
a little cub gets a ride!

Polar bear cubs are born in a snow den in the winter. Young bear cubs drink their mother's milk.

